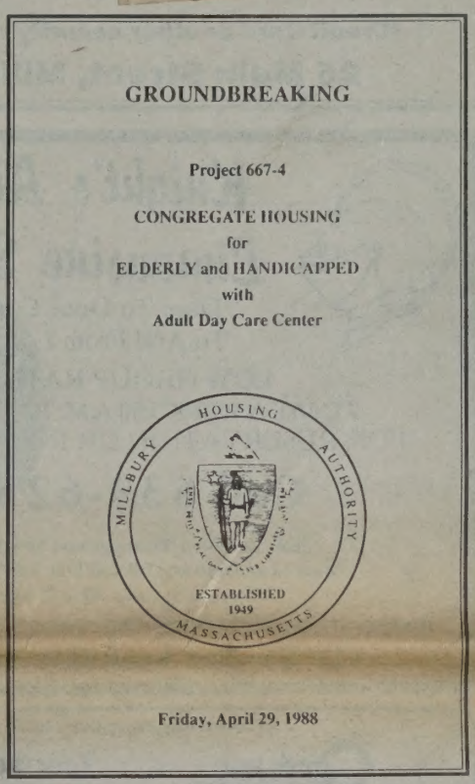
Groundbreaking Ceremonies held for Congregate Housing Project



MILLBURY - Over 100 people gathered under threatening skies at Colonial Drive on a cold Friday afternoon to participate in ground breaking ceremonies for the construction of an innovative $1 million congregate housing project for elderly and handicapped persons. The complex will house five apartments, each with six bedrooms and communal living rooms, kitchens and baths. In addition, the District Nursing Society will be renting space in the complex to provide an adult day care center.

State and local officials participated in the ceremonies, which were held on April 29 at the end of Colonial Drive where construction of the complex has already begun.

Millbury Housing Authority Chairman Richard J. Dwinell introduced the speakers, including Arthur Kimber, Director of the Bureau of Housing Development, Executive Office of Communities and Development. Kimber praised both the Housing Authority, under the direction of Irene Sullivan, and the community at-large for being "pioneers." "Days like today are high points in my life and yours," he said. "You should give the Housing Authority a pat on the back for being pioneers in congregate housing." He also noted that Millbury had further vision in developing an elder day care program.

State Senator John Houston also applauded the community, saying, "We're being tested today. As we respond, we'll be tested to see what kind of people we are; what kind of care we'll give our elderly. Today, the town of Millbury has passed the test. You're leading the way and showing the state the way to go in care of the elderly."

Noting that there is no single right answer to the complexities of today's housing problems, Rep. Paul Kollios said, "This kind of congregate housing is one of the desirable solutions for meeting the needs of older people." He referred to the innovative project as a program "where people can feel secure; where people can be independent yet inter-dependent."

Representing the Board of Selectmen, Donald Gauthier reiterated the board's commitment to the project. "This endeavor is well supported by the board," he said.

Jane Jung, Chairwoman of the District Nursing Society, whose organization will assume responsibility for the elder day care facility, also addressed the gathering. She highlighted the importance of an elder day care center for the community, noting that families will be able "to retain their jobs and share their lives with the elderly."

The project is slated for completion by March of 1989.

How Does Your Mail Box Stand Up? (pun intended!)

To the Editor:

With Spring upon us, traditionally this is the time for us to clean up the yard and spruce up the house. For us in the Postal Service, we are no different.

After a long, cold, damaging Winter, all Postal Collection Boxes are now being repainted, relabelled, and resecured.

At this time, I am suggesting that all Postal Customers stand back and assess the quality of their mail receptacle.

Is your house number on the box?

Is your box in proper repair?

Does the cover securely fit to protect your mail?

Is your receptacle securely fastened to either a post or your house?

Is the approach to your box free of obstruction?

Have you noted any bees or flying insects nesting near your box? The use of moth balls will help to eliminate this problem.

If the answer to any of the above questions is NO, then it is time for you to repair your mail receptacle.

Please feel free to contact the Postmaster if you have any questions regarding mail receptacle improvement.

WE DID IT!

Fidelity Co-operative Bank reached its $100 million goal.

Thank you depositors and shareholders! Because of you, and the mutually successful relationship we've enjoyed over our 100 year history, Fidelity Co-operative Bank has reached its $100 million goal.

It couldn't have happened in a better year. This is our 100th birthday celebration. It marks a century of committment to the community that has earned us a reputation as a leader in providing mortgage financing to promote home ownership in the area.

We've also earned a reputation as one of the strongest financial institutions in the state. As we enter our second century, it's with a renewed determination to live up to that reputation through our continued support of the community by providing strong financial support.

Happy Birthday to us. We wish you all continued success, and promise to be here to help when you need us.

Kollios Elected Convention Delegate

SHREWSBURY - On Saturday, April 23, Congressional District Democrats elected State Representative Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) to one of two delegate seats for the national Democratic Convention to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, this summer.

Kollios was elected along with UAW official John Laperle of Worcester. Female delegates elected were Mary Clark of Millbury, Roberta Goldman of Shrewsbury, and Ellen Vallon of Worcester. Also elected were two alternates, Tom Berthiaume and Janet Slovin, both of Worcester.

These delegates will be committed Dukakis delegates at the July Convention.

After the results were in, an elated Kollios said, "I am very grateful to my Democratic supporters who have given me the chance to represent Massachusetts at the all-important National Convention."

Delegates to the convention will be choosing the 1988 Democratic nominee for President of the United States. Approximately 900 Democrats attended Saturday's Caucus.

Woman's Relief Corps Annual Convention

The Department of Massachusetts Woman's Relief Corps held their 109th Annual Convention at the Yankee Drummer Inn from April 19-21.

The Convention opened with the Senior Aide, Celina Breault, escorting the Department President, Exelina Zuidema, to conduct the convention.

Newly elected officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Ona Fleet of East Douglas; Senior Vice President, Flora Gilbert of Worcester; Junior Vice President, Elizabeth Chambers of Millbury; Treasurer, Celina Breault of Worcester; Chaplain, Exelina Zuidema of Sutton; Executive Board: Chairman, Beatrice Nolette of Worcester; Member, Florence Chlapowski of Webster.

Other newly-elected officers appointed were: Secretary, Leila Bruce of Northboro; Flower Committee, Josephine Corazza of East Douglas; Press Correspondent, Exelina Zuidema of Sutton; Senior Aide, Loraine Nedorscik of Milford.

After the Grand Army Banquet, the Patriotic Instructor, Florence Chlapowski, presented a Parade Flag to the Department President, Exelina Zuidema, who in turn presented it to the First Baptist Church of West Sutton. The Reverend Olson and Carl Holm were present to receive it in memory of the Grand Army of the Republic and Mrs. Zuidema's husband, Peter Zuidema.

Winners of the Department of Massachusetts Woman's Relief Corps President's Project were as follows: 1st Prize, Mrs. Cora French, National President, W.R.C., set of sheets and pillow cases; 2nd Prize, Mrs. Gail Gauthier, 9-piece stoneware set; 3rd Prize, Mrs. Peggy Stewart, $10.00.

The winners' names were drawn on April 20 at the G.A.R. Banquet.

Rummage Sale

Conference Discusses Financing Strategies

UXBRIDGE - Citizens are demanding improved services, but are resisting tax hikes. The federal government has cut off revenue sharing. Where can state, county, local or special district governments turn? That question was the focus of a two-day seminar held in New York City last week and attended by Rep. Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge). Moore is House Chairman of the Massachusetts Special Commission on Infrastructure Finance and a member of the House Committee on Ways and Means.

"The tragic collapse of the Mianus Bridge in Connecticut a few years ago sparked nationwide concern with the country's infrastructure program," Moore said. "Areas in the Northeast, including our own Blackstone Valley area, are constantly in danger of meeting solid waste capacity limitations. On a national basis, we can't continue indefinitely on the brink of disaster with inadequate roads, bridges, and sewers," he explained.

"With trillions of dollars already invested and billions more needed every year, America's infrastructure proves insatiable. Funding solutions must be feasible and actionable," he added.

Moore said that in the coming years, governments will be anticipating far less availability of federal grants, and legislators and public policy leaders must be prepared now to find alternative revenue sources.

The New York conference, sponsored by the Institute for International Research, Inc., focused on a variety of methods being used to finance public works projects such as roads, bridges, water treatment, solid waste disposal and hazardous waste proposals. Among the options considered were: sale-lease back, impact fees, user fees, revolving funds, privatization and traditional tax methods. Special emphasis was given to the impact of Federal Tax Reform on the use of tax-exempt bonds for public works projects.

Erosion of infrastructure is a long-term phenomenon. The rebuilding process is a long and complex one. According to Moore, the time to get financing strategies together is now. "Delayed projects just get more expensive," he said.

Clara Barton Birthplace to Reopen

OXFORD - On Saturday, June 11, the Clara Barton Birthplace Museum, located in North Oxford, will reopen to the public. The 170 year old home where Clara Barton was born has been closed for the past two years. In honor of the event, a Flag Day Celebration is planned and the public is invited to attend. Festivities will begin at noon with a bring-your-own picnic lunch to be held on the scenic grounds of the Clara Barton Camp for Girls with Diabetes, which is adjacent to the museum. A re-enactment of a Civil War encampment will take place. At 1:00 p.m, the program will begin with speeches by Sandra Mitchell Caron, President of the Camp, and by Richard F. Schubert, President of the American Red Cross, Washington, D.C. Schubert's attendance will mark the first time in history that a president of the American Red Cross has visited the Clara Barton Museum. Guided tours of the museum will be conducted from 2-4 p.m.

Born on Christmas Day in 1821, Clara Barton served as a volunteer nurse in the Civil War and served the International Red Cross during the Franco-Prussian War. In 1881, under the leadership and perseverance of Clara Barton and with America's signing of the Geneva Conventions, the American Red Cross was founded.

The birthplace was built in 1818 by Miss Barton's father, "Captain" Stephen Barton. Today, the house is historically furnished as it was at the time of Clara's birth. It is maintained and dedicated to the work of Clara Barton and the spirit of her great humanitarian mission.

The public is invited to step back in time and tour the historic birthplace. Mark your calendars for this event. The festivities and tours are free to the general public and will be held rain or shine.

Shy Singers Seek Soulmates

WORCESTER - The Worcester Community Chorale, whose members are too shy to audition but not too shy to hold two concerts each year, is looking for additional singers. No audition, previous experience, or photo required.

The only requirements for membership are a love for singing and regular attendance at rehearsals for the chorale's season concert.

The group's 40 members have a wide range of occupations including: college student, retiree, copysetter, engineer, parent, psychologist, writer, and retailer.

Richard Aramony is the Director of the Chorale. He also directs the chorus and chorale at Worcester State College.

Each members is provided with a tape of the music for each forthcoming concert. Members use the tapes to practice at home and then meet weekly for group practice.

Two spring concert dates have been set. The first will take place on Thursday, June 9, at the First Baptist Church of West Sutton. The second concert will be held on Sunday, June 19, at the Hadwen Congregational Church in Worcester.

The program includes both modern and traditional works as well as spirituals and folk songs. Last season's Christmas concert was taped by Worcester radio station WCUW for broadcast at a later date.

The Worcester Community Chorale is entering its eighth year and is supported by donations from the community. Anyone interested in joining the group can call Aramony at 752-3032 (evenings).

Camp Fire Council Establishes Committee to Review Marion's Camp

WORCESTER - The Board of Directors of the Central Massachusetts Camp Fire Council has voted to establish an Ad Hoc Property Study Committee to review the Council's land holdings on Lake Singletary in Sutton (known as Marion's Camp), according to Council President Joan Ferguson, who made the announcement. The Committee has also been charged with identifying how this asset may best serve the Council in providing Camp Fire programs in the community.

Last Fall, the Board of Directors voted to close Marion's Camp for the 1988 season, following several years of deficit financing. According to Ms. Ferguson, "Marion's Camp holds a special place in the hearts of all the members of this Camp Fire Council, so it was with great sadness that the board voted to close it. Our reasons were primarily financial, yet it had also become increasingly difficult to entice the requisite number of volunteers to staff the camp properly and safely."

Ms. Ferguson also noted that in addition to the Ad Hoc Property Study Committee, a second committee has been established to identify alternative outdoor activities for Camp Fire youth, independent of a specific site, which can, in turn, be evaluated by the board for possible implementation. "Camp Fire has always recognized that outdoor opportunities are an important part of our program for youth," said Ms. Ferguson. "The most critical consideration in all our deliberations has always been to be responsive to the changing needs of the children we serve, and to support them with the best programs we can offer, because they are our most important asset."

Radio Program for Elders

WORCESTER - The Age Center of Worcester Area, Inc. has started a new service to bring information to the elder population. The Age Center is now producing "Elder Outreach," a radio program which airs Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. on community radio station WCUW 91.3 FM.

The show provides specific information on issues that directly affect elders and will inform listeners about services available to the elder population. In addition, plans are underway to include an entertainment segment. The program is hosted by Julia Mack, who currently heads the Elder Outreach Education Program at Worcester State College and has long been active in community affairs in Worcester.

The Age Center welcomes suggestions for program ideas and would like to hear from elders with an unusual hobby or interest who would like to be interviewed on radio. Contact the Age Center Communications/Recruitment Director at 755-4388 with suggestions.

Upcoming programs include: May 3 - Mass. Avocation for the Blind, Products available to aid the visually impaired; May 10 - Nutrition Program of the Age Center; May 17 - Social Day Care Program of the Age Center.

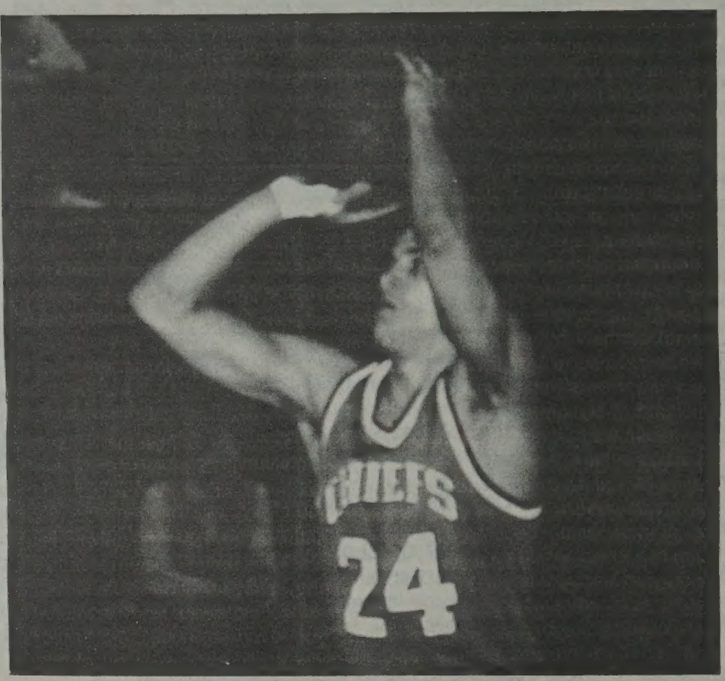
Brian Parath, former MHS athlete, helps lead Lowell Chiefs to victory



Who among us hasn't vicariously heard the roar of the crowd rush in our ears as we dribbled a basketball up the driveway, weaving around spectral defenders, and, contorted our bodies in one final desperate effort to sink the tie-breaking lay-up just as the buzzer sounds to win the game. Or, perhaps, while on the sandlots of our youth, in our mind's eye we would be the short stop at Fenway, scooping up a hard hit grounder and firing it home perfectly, preventing the winning run from scoring. For most of us, being a part of such scenarios was sheer invention, but the premium we place on such activity can be measured by our continued support for and our preoccupation with athletics. But for those of us who have been denied the privilege, there is no envy of those for whom such fantasies are realities. On the contrary, there is a certain esteem granted to the fortunate few because advancing to that level requires more than luck; it requires hard work, skill, and a devotion to teamwork that everyone can appreciate.

For Brian Parath, a sophomore at the University of Lowell and a 1986 graduate of Millbury High School, the cliche "the thrill of victory" takes on a new dimension because he was one of the key starting five members of the "Chief's" team that led to Lowell's cinderella victories and the 1987-88 NCAA Division II National Championship.

Brian is a Management Information Systems major at the University. He is well known to those who follow Millbury sports as an outstanding athlete, holding the Millbury High School scoring record for points with 1,407 and having, for three years, received letters in basketball, baseball, and soccer. His athletic accomplishments go beyond these mentioned, but what is truly noteworthy about Brian is his attitude. To those who know him, he is a gentleman who is unaffected by his accomplishments. He takes enormous pride, not in his substantial contributions to the "Chief's" victories, but in the fact that this team, which, at the beginning of the season was not ranked among the contenders, worked as a unit to capture the crown from more nationally ranked teams.

Brian's career with the Lowell Chiefs began after an illustrious high school career. As a senior at Millbury H.S., Brian was recruited by many top colleges. However, it was Lowell coach Don Doucette who impressed Brian the most. "Coach Doucette showed the greatest interest in me, and I was impressed not only with the basketball program but with the academics. I wanted to play ball where I could get the best education."

Brian entered his freshman year in 1986 as a Computer major. He broke into the starting lineup with Coach Doucette referring to him in the Chief's Media Book as, "Biggest surprise of the 86-87 season." Brian relived this memorable year: "The whole starting five from freshman year returned. We knew we had a difficult schedule starting with St. Michael's at home. They had been ranked 1st by Sports Illustrated in Division II."

Brian explained that decisive victories against higher ranked teams and disappointing losses against lower ranked teams gave the Chiefs confidence that they could compete with the best and the impetus to work hard to maintain a competitive edge. As the season wore on, it became apparent not only to the team but also to the spectators that the Chiefs were formidable opponents.

The climax of the season came with the play-offs. "At the NEC Tournament, we had to play 5th ranked New Haven in the finals on their home court. We beat them 84-72 for the New England Collegiate Conference title. By this time we were getting confidence and things started working together.

"After the regionals were over, there were only eight teams left. We had to play Alabama A&M. They were ranked 3rd and hadn't lost a game at home in four years.

"When we came out for our warm up, they booed us; when Alabama came out, there was dancing and a band playing and 7,500 people cheering.

"I had to cover a kid 6' 6" (Brian's is 6'2") who has NBA 3 point range. I saw him on film where he scored the winning point in the last game. I was panicked that I had to stop him." Brian dipped deep into his reserves and held one of Alabama's top scorers to just 11 points.

This victory brought the Chiefs face to face in the semifinals with Florida Southern, which was ranked number 1 in the nation. "By this time," Brian recalled, "we had the feeling that no one could beat us. Against Florida, we went up 23 points by the half and they cut it down to 7. That put us in the finals." This last statement spread a broad grin over Brian's face as the retelling rekindled the feelings that had accompanied the win.

"We weren't cocky," he added, almost apologetically. "We just felt like we could beat the Celtics." It was clear in his tone that the team's enthusiasm had grown out of the work that they had done all year and not out of arrogance. They had performed well, and their recognition of that fact, held in perspective, would serve them well in the championship game played against Alaska-Anchorage.

"We played a perfect game against Alaska and beat them 75-72. People taped it for me and every time I watch it, I feel good about it," he said. "To think that there are 253 Division 2 basketball programs in the country and we're the best," he said, almost embarrassed by his well deserved pride.

The groundwork for Brian's success at ULowell began in his hometown. He had high praise for his Millbury High basketball coach Ron Dunham and Bob Austin, his baseball and soccer coach. "He's (Dunham) a class act," he said. "He took care of me when recruiters started coming around and helped me keep things in perspective. Coach Austin is a friend as well as a coach, but he always kept the two separate."

Brian has memories that will last him a lifetime, but more than just memories, he has the good sense to appreciate what his coaches, from Pee Wee League to college, have taught him. More importantly, he has come to respect the wisdom and advice of his parents, Glen and Irene. "My parents brought me up to be pc-lite and personable and to appreciate what others have done for me," he said.

To cap off an extraordinary year, Brian's teammates chose him to be Co-Captain of the Chiefs for the 1988-89 season, an honor that testifies to the respect that he has gained.

What about next year? "We've already started practicing for next year, but it's hard. We have to get started, though," because next year everyone's going to be gunning for us."

Mike Chizy Voted to Chair Board of Selectmen

By Jim Douglass

SUTTON - The April 26th Selectmen's meeting opened with new members Mary K. Connor and Richard Labonte fresh from their election victories and sitting in attendance for their first meeting. They were introduced to the spectators by Wallace Johnson with the warning that "their telephone numbers will be posted on every street corner." With the new members, came a need to reorganize the board and appoint a new chairperson, vice chairperson and clerk. As Wallace Johnson was not available for the post of Chairman due to the tradition of rotating the chair, the post was voted to Mike Chizy with Rick Labonte as Vice Chairman and Mary K. Connor as Clerk.

Business discussed by the newly restructured board included the following:

- A liquor license transfer was approved from J.J.'s Lounge to Jack Virgilio. The transfer had to be approved or the license would revert back to the town. With the approval came a provision that the license must be exercised within a 30 day period for the transfer to be legal. Virgilio said he plans to exercise his liquor license. "I'll probably do it on my son's wedding day," he said.

- The board then discussed a zoning violation on Merrill Road. A house, owned by Edward Renaud, was converted to six units and a variance sought over two years ago for the conversion which has already taken place. The variance was rejected and Renaud, a realtor, had promised to rectify the situation. Two years later, the board is now interested in seeing the problem resolved.

- A letter was read to the board from Town Clerk Ethel O'Day regarding a consequence of the passage of the town charter. The letter advised the board that Section 8.5 of the charter calls for the board to appoint a designate for the town meeting and also to appoint a person to the nine-member screening committee that will solicit candidates for the new position of Town Administrator. The appointee to the screening committee would have to be selected soon as the committee is required to meet in 30 days.

- Finance Committee Chairman Dave Strieby gave an update on the progress of the '89 budget which will be voted on at the May 9th town meeting. According to Strieby, the tentative town budget amounts to $6,988,000 with revenues of 6,366,000 and a budget deficit of $620,000. However, Strieby reported that his committee has managed to reduce the figure to $115,000. According to Strieby, "We believe we have about reached our end of finding funds without severely damaging departments."

It was suggested that one way of out the deficit situation, which has been done in previous years, would be to count on the windfall of "free cash" which comes shortly after the closing of the town's books from the previous year. This "free cash" is money unspent from the previous year which is certified by the state following an auditing of the town's books. The past couple of years, this has amounted to $200,000 and $400,000, but Strieby said he has no idea what it could be this year. The reliance on free cash will leave the town, according to Strieby, with "virtually no emergency resources" between the time of the budget's passing, if indeed it does pass, and the arrival of the certification of free cash. When asked if he had any recommendations, Strieby replied, "Buy a printing press."

- The low turnout for the town elections was discussed by the board. The idea of taping town meetings for later rebroadcast on cable TV was discussed as a way to increase participation.

The meeting adjourned at 9:25.

On The Shelf

By Rosemary Waltos

It's been a harsh, long winter and now, with spring here, it seems only to be an extension of winter. But, rumor has it that summer is around the corner and, if the trusted Farmer's Almanac is right, it is.

With the approach of summer, thoughts turn to summertime jaunts, long weekends, and vacations. Wherever your headed, whether it's to the beach, hiking along the Appalachian Trail, or to a neighboring state or faraway country, the Millbury Public Library can help you make your plans with a multitude of travel guides.

If you want to stick close to home by staying within the Commonwealth, there are a number of books that can steer you in the direction of some exciting and sometimes unfamiliar places. City side, there's THE BOSTON GLOBE HISTORICAL WALKS IN OLD BOSTON by John Harris, WALKING TOURS OF OLD BOSTON by Paul Hogarth, and FODOR'S BOSTON. These books take you through Boston's North End, Downtown, Beacon Hill, Charlestown, Cambridge and Back Bay areas.

If you want to get a little more adventurous, there's ALL ABOUT BOSTON HARBOR ISLANDS. This book by Emily and David Kales tells you how to get to the islands of Boston, where to picnic, how to rent or charter a boat, what fish to catch, cruises that are available, and more.

The library subscribes to the motto "Life is a Beach," with plenty of books to take you there safely and confidently. GUIDE TO MARTHA'S VINEYARD, AUDUBON SOCIETY'S FIELD GUIDE TO THE NATURAL PLACES OF THE NORTHEAST COASTAL AREAS, and GUIDE TO NANTUCKET, are just a few of these books.

Turning westward? Look towards the library to get you there. Try FIFTY HIKES IN MASSACHUSETTS. This book takes you not only into the hinterland of western Massachusetts, but you'll also find coastal treks from the North Shore to Cape Cod. TRIPS AND TRIVIA: A GUIDE TO EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS by Linda K. Fuller, takes you west, community by community. You won't miss a thing with this book.

If you want to stretch your boundaries and your budget to include the New England region, the books that will help you do it are DAYTRIPS AND BUDGET VACATIONS IN NEW ENGLAND, FODOR'S NEW ENGLAND, and BACK ROADS OF NEW ENGLAND. Traveling with children? You might want to check out TRIPS WITH CHILDREN IN NEW ENGLAND and TRAVELING GAMES FOR BABIES. If you want to stay some place special during your New England travels, there's GUIDE TO THE RECOMMENDED COUNTRY INNS OF NEW ENGLAND, NORTH AMERICAN COUNTRY AND BACK ROADS, and COMPLETE GUIDE TO BED AND BREAKFASTS, INNS & GUESTHOUSES.

For those who want to really get away, the library can take you where you want to go. We carry books to all the popular destinations with the Fodor, Frommer, and Mobil travel guide series. Thinking about going to England, Ireland, South America, the Far East, or maybe Hawaii, New York City, Washington, D.C. or Disney World and Epcot? Be smart and start your plans by stopping by the library.

We also have a number of unusual travel guides. The first of these is PETERSON'S LEARNING VACATIONS offering alternatives to conventional vacations. Information on archaeological digs, mountain climbing treks, music and dance festivals, college-campus seminars, and more are included here. FERRYLINER VACATIONS IN NORTH AMERICA: OCEAN TRAVEL AND INLAND CRUISING by Michael and Laura Murphy. Maine, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Alaska, British Columbia, and Mexico are covered, including America's inland waterways. GREAT VACATIONS WITH YOUR KIDS is another one of these special guides. This book will show you how to enjoy your time with your kids (and survive).

COMING UP AT THE LIBRARY

Record Assets at Millbury Credit Union

MILLBURY - Millbury Credit Union President Robert L. LeClaire recently reported assets of more than $57 million, a new record for the institution which was founded in 1934.

Executive Vice President and Treasurer Richard N. Kenary emphasized that the Millbury Credit Union benefits from membership in the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), the federal government's agency which insures credit unions, much as the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insures banks. With the combination of federal insurance and membership in the Massachusetts Share Insurance Corporation, Kenary said, all deposits at MCU are insured in full.

Kenary also said that the Credit Union will install automatic teller machines (ATMs) in 1988, and that the system will be affiliated with Yankee 24. Also, the Credit Union plans to offer Mastercard and VISA before the end of the year.

Directors elected with terms expiring in January, 1991, were Bertha A. Eaton, Dr. Phillippe W. Ouellette, Robert L. Pearson, and Robert F. White, all of Millbury.

Officers re-elected were LeClaire, chairman and president; Kenary, executive vice president and treasurer; Arthur H. Despard, first vice chairman; Marie J. O'Mara, second vice chairman; Raymond D. Bergeson, third vice chairman; and Mary B. Grogan, assistant treasurer and clerk of the board.

David W. Cofske was reappointed credit union manager.

Named to the audit and investment committee were Mrs. O'Mara as chairman, Bergeson, and White.

Scott Pease MHS Nominee for Merit Scholarship

MILLBURY - The University of Massachusetts at Amherst will offer 31 merit scholarships to freshmen entering the University in the Fall of 1989 whose high school record demonstrates high academic achievement. These Chancellor's Talent Awards for Academic Excellence provide students with a four-year waiver of tuition worth $5,184 at current rates.

Scott Pease is the 1988 Millbury High School nominee. Scott and his parents will be invited to a one-day program on campus at Amherst. The program will include a one-hour achievement test in English and mathematics and a campus tour. Nominees must be in the top 5% of their class with correspondingly high PSAT scores. Scott is the son of Bruce and Leane Pease of West Main Street.

Sutton Youngsters to Perform in Spring Concert

SUTTON - The Sutton Public Schools' Music Department will hold a Spring Concert on Wednesday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Elementary School Auditorium.

The program will consist of performances by the elementary and secondary combined band and choruses, and is free and open to the public.

Thank You

The Millbury Little League would like to thank everyone who contributed to Tag Day, Saturday, April 23, and for attending our parade and ceremonies on Sunday, April 24. Both days were a huge success.

Books and More...!

By Joanne N. Donnelly

SUTTON - The Town of Sutton will be having its Annual Town Meeting on Monday evening, May 9, and this year is unusual in that you'll be getting two for the price of one. The Annual Town Meeting will have a Special Town Meeting incorporated into it, and copies of both Warrants are posted not only in the Town Hall, but in the Library as well.

The Library Department has two Articles in which it is interested. Article 26 concerns the appropriation of funds for washroom facilities on the first floor of the Town Hall. Mothers of Story Hour graduates can explain in greater detail why the facilities are needed. Article 30 concerns much needed repairs and upgrading of the Manchaug Library building. They need new doors and work on the electrical system, plus halogen lights for added security.

Copies of the Annual Town Report are available at the Library, along with copies of the Charter Commission Report which was voted upon favorably during the Town Elections on April 23rd. The Annual Town Report for 1987 will be handed out at the Town Meeting but, if you want some time to go over the Articles, come into either the Town Clerk's office or the Library and pick up a copy.

The Special Town Meeting Warrant will not be in the Town Report, but has important Articles that you might want to look into, especially Article IV, which is sponsored by the Town Soccer Association. For all you parents who have given time and gas to the pursuit of your children's soccer career, invest a little more time to read this article. It will be posted on the Bulletin Board which contains only those things that pertain to Sutton.

Next week, we'll have the regular Library bulletin which will contain new books that will probably be a welcome respite after the business of governing is over.

Hope to see you at the town meeting.

Soil Testing

Lawns, flower beds, and vegetable gardens benefit from the application of fertilizer and lime. Just as we require a balanced diet, plants require nutrients to grow. These nutrients include nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium and in lesser amounts, calcium, magnesium and iron. For most plants, a soil pH of 6.0-6.5 allows plant roots to readily absorb these nutrients. This balance promotes optimum growth, flower and crop production.

The University of Massachusetts Cooperative Extension offers soil testing to determine pH, available element levels and percent organic matter. A soil test can aid in diagnosis of cultural problems, protect the environment from runoff of excess fertilizer, as well as give optimum growth for the price and effort of applying fertilizer and lime. A soil test will also identify soils contaminated with lead.

Your soil sample should be representative of the area being tested. To properly take a soil sample, use a trowel to remove a slice of soil 4-6 inches deep in 6-10 places within the lawn or garden. Around trees and shrubs, only 3-4 samples taken at the base of the plant are necessary. Very wet soil or soil which has been recently limed or fertilized should not be tested.

Place soil in a container, mixing thoroughly. Remove one cup of the soil mix, place in a plastic bag and close tightly. This is the sample to be tested. Air dry wet samples before placing in the plastic bag. Do not dry in stove or microwave, as this will affect the test. Label each sample with your name, address and the crop. Labeled samples should be sent to: Soil Test Lab, Suburban Experiment Station, 240 Beaver Street, Waltham, MA 02154.

Indicate the test desired, making checks payable to University of Massachusetts. Fees for testing are as follows: pH only, $1.00; Available Elements including pH, $5.00; Percent Organic Matter, Available Elements and pH, $7.00.

For more information, call the Soil Testing Lab at 617-891-0650, or Worcester County Cooperative Extension at 892-1116 or write 759 Main Street, Leicester, MA 01524.

Auburn Nursery School Expresses Interest in Dorothy Manor Building

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The April 27 School Committee meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Clerk Dr. Alfred Sylvia. The first item of business was the reorganization of the committee by the election of a chairman and vice-chairman/secretary.

Committeeman Alan Tuttle nominated Chester Hanratty for Chairman. No other names were placed in nomination, and Hanratty was appointed on a 4-0 vote. Newly-elected member Jane Pojani was absent.

Committeeman Edward Wilczynski's name was placed in nomination by Bruce Pease for Vice-Chairman/Secretary. Wilczynski was also appointed on a 4-0 vote.

Hanratty assumed the chair and conducted the rest of the meeting.

Wilczynski then placed Alan Tuttle's name in nomination for assuming the weekly responsibility for signing the payroll vouchers. Hanratty was placed in nomination as an alternate. Both were approved on unanimous votes.

Hanratty then read a letter from former school committee member Patricia Cooney. In the letter, Mrs. Cooney expressed her appreciation for a placque she received in recognition of her 3-year term on the committee.

- In other business, the committee voted 4-0 to approve a request from the Millbury Firemen's Relief Association to conduct a Firemen's Muster at the high school football field. The event will be held on June 12, from 12:30 to 5:00 p.m., in conjunction with the Town's 175th anniversary celebration. The committee was informed that eight towns have already responded to an invitation and approximately 30 trucks will be participating. A parade of fire trucks will start at the Elmwood Street School parking lot and proceed to the High School for the muster. Refreshments will be sold and no alcoholic beverages will be allowed, as recommended by the Firemen's Relief Association.

- A second reading of the Athletic Awards Policy, developed and recommended by Athletic Director Richard Garabedian, was then discussed. Tuttle expressed some reservations with respect to the awarding of jackets. He maintained that limiting the awarding of jackets to students in their junior and senior years would give the younger students something to work for.

Tuttle also was concerned with the absence of a statement that would allow the presentation of jackets to teams winning district or state finals. Pease responded that the policy is written in such a way as to leave that option open. Sylvia agreed and said that it would not leave out other options for the committee. Wilczynski then suggested that such a statement be added as an addenda to the policy.

Hanratty stated that the school committee has a policy for this type of situation. He also stated that the policy before the committee applied only to the athletic department. It was suggested that Garabedian be present at the 3rd reading to discuss the policy before a vote is taken.

- Mrs. Pierce, Business Manager, presented a list of several concerns she received from Terry Bernard regarding Windle Field. She noted that one of the concerns, relating to holes in the playing fields, has already been addressed. She also reported that piles of brush accumulated from cutting an area at the field will be taken care of shortly.

According to Mrs. Pierce, Bernard also suggested: 1. that the area recently cut be cleaned up and established as a practice area, 2. That a garden shed be built to store equipment used to maintain the field. 3. that paving work is needed on the entrance road. He noted that an excess of sand has been causing dusty conditions. Wilczynski suggested that the Highway Department be contacted to assist in removing the excess sand.

Hanratty stated that monies were not budgeted for next year to provide a storage shed but the matter could be considered in the following year's budget.

Mrs. Pierce noted that there was $1,500 left in this year's salary accounts. Hanratty suggested that the money left be expended to clean up the field area in preparation for the upcoming 175th anniversary events. The committee approved on a 4-0 vote.

- Under Informational Items, Sylvia informed the board that a "No Smoking" policy in the school buildings went into effect on April 13th. Mrs. Pierce told the committee that signs for all entrances are being made and will be posted shortly.

- In another informational matter, the committee was informed by Sylvia and Mrs. Pierce that the Pakachoag Acres Nursery School of Auburn has expressed an interest in acquiring the use of the Dorothy Manor School for day care programs. Mrs. Pierce explained that they are interested in renting the entire second floor and the basement rooms.

Sylvia said that he was impressed with the philosophy and sensitivity of the program director in stating their qualifications and willingness not to interfere with existing day school programs in town.

- Sylvia informed the Committee that teacher Robert Austin is interested in developing a weather station at the Middle School to be replicated on the model of a similar station in a Natick school.

- Dr. David Troughton, Curriculum Coordinator, reported on several Chapter 188 grants submitted to the state for funding. Application were submitted for a $10,000 grant for gifted and talented children, an early childhood grant, a dropout prevention grant, and an education technology grant. He noted that the dropout request was for the continuation of a present program developed earlier by Paul Clancy. According to Troughton, it

A Bit of History....

By Grace Laflash

Because it is our town's 175th birthday, I would like to share a bit of history with you.

Most Reverend Thomas J. Shahan, D.D. was born in Manchester, New Hampshire, on September 11, 1857. He grew up in Millbury and attended Millbury schools.

Tom, his father, Maurice, and stepmother, lived on Sycamore Street on the site of the second newer house before Sycamore Circle.

In 1882, he was ordained to the priesthood in Rome. He became a professor of church history and lecturer on Roman law at Catholic University, Washington, D.C. in 1891. Later, he held the position of Rector.

Bishop Shahan's dream of a national shrine honoring Mary, the mother of Jesus, was realized when excavation began in the fall of 1922. However, the final results were never seen by Thomas. He died in 1934 at the age of seventy-five.

Due to a lack of funds, construction ceased for nearly a quarter of a century. Work on the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C. resumed in 1955.

was expected that in the future the school department budget would need to pick up a larger portion of funding for this program.

- Principal Daniel Carmody has recommended May 23 as the last day for Seniors. The committee approved on a 4-0 vote.

- A brief discussion developed on the training of custodial and maintenance staff in asbestos handling procedures. The committee approved a recommendation to send Mr. Hamilton and one other maintenance worker to a seminar on asbestos management.

- The committee also unanimously approved a request from the School Improvement Council for funds to establish and equip a weather station at the Middle School.

- Sylvia then presented a request from Richard Garabedian to form a tennis club at the high school. The program would be held after school at a cost of less than $200 for the year. Sylvia asked for authority to post and fill the position immediately. The committee approved on a 4-0 vote.

- Under Resignations and Leaves, the committee turned down a request from Nancy Donnelly for an extended leave of absence for another year.

The committee accepted with regret the resignation of Betty Hedlund, School Nurse at Elmwood Street and Coordinator of the Health Program. Mrs. Hedlund will be doing a practicum in teaching.

On a 4-0 vote, the committee accepted the resignation of Gary Morin, part-time temporary maintenance worker, effective May 13.

- Under Appointments, the committee approved the following recommendations:

1. Tom Kinney, caretaker at Windle Field.

2. Sue Baron and Helen Sauer, Drug Education Advisors

Sylvia reported that he will soon be presenting the committee with system-wide goals in the areas of writing and testing.

- Troughton reported that a new basal reader for above average to above grade level students is being considered for adoption.

- The committee voted 4-0 to give a $400 stipend to Mrs. Fairbanks for her willingness to work with Mr. Bruno and the school band after school hours.

- Sylvia informed the committee that night custodians will be attending the May 18th meeting to discus a proposal to allow them to work days during vacation periods. Wilczynski suggested that Mr. Hamilton be present at the meeting.

- Tuttle then raised the issue of Chapter I teachers being used for substitutes when teachers are out sick. He was concerned that Chapter I students weren't being serviced.

Sylvia stated that it had happened occasionally in the past but assured the committee that it would not be done in the future. He also explained that he had received a call from Mrs. Cooney several weeks ago and had looked into the matter. "It won't be done again," said Sylvia.

It was also suggested by Sylvia that a permanent sub be available at both the elementary and middle schools to fill in during teacher absences. He noted that this type of arrangement is presently in use at the high school level.

- Alan Tuttle raised the possibility of having students, under the direction of a teacher, write and submit stories to local newspapers on school events. Sylvia responded that he supported the idea of developing student writers as opposed to faculty writers.

The meeting adjourned at 9:05 p.m.

Kollios Dance

Local Broker Joins Gallery of Homes, Inc.

Orlando, Florida - The Gallery of Homes, Inc., founded in 1950 as the first residential real estate network, recently announced the appointment of Fitzpatrick Real Estate of Millbury to membership in the Orlando based organization that serves over 250 independent brokers in the United States.

Judith Fitzpatrick is Principal of the local real estate firm, located at 10 Farnsworth Court, "On the Common," that will now operate under its new name, Fitzpatrick Real Estate Gallery of Homes.

In announcing Fitzpatrick's affiliation with the Gallery organization, Peter D. Kuc, President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "With the addition of this fine firm to serve the Millbury, Sutton, Auburn, Douglas, Oxford, Grafton and Southern Worcester area, residents will now have a concentrated service for people moving in and out of the community through Gallery's relocation program."

As a Gallery member, Fitzpatrick's office will offer clients a national and local marketing program for buying and selling residential property and the relocation and referral service covering the United States. In addition, members benefit from the organization's professional marketing tools, educational courses, corporate relocation services and national advertising program.

To Visit Newport

SUTTON - On April 30, members of the social studies classes at Sutton High School will visit Newport, Rhode Island. The students will tour the Breakers, the summer cottage of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Chateau Sur Mer, another of the historic mansions located in Newport.

Planning Board Chooses New Chairman

By Jim Douglass

SUTTON - The April 25th Planning Board meeting opened with new board member David Suhl present and a reorganization of the board necessary after Chairperson Mary K. Connor's departure for the Board of Selectmen. After some discussion, board member Craig Ferrel was elected as the new Chairman and John Ritchie was elected Clerk. Other business included the following:

- A site plan review was held for Marane Oil which operates a gas station in Sutton center. During the review period, the Conservation Commission had seen the plans and had written their objections to the size of the proposed sign, which would bear the Texaco logo. The selectmen noted the objections of the commission and also could not determine, from the plans, the height of the proposed wooden canopy which would shield the gas pumps in inclement weather. The board decided to send a letter to the oil company stating that the proposed sign is too large and requesting more information about the height of the canopy.

- A preliminary plan for Tournament Hills, named for its proximity to Pleasant Valley Country Club, was presented to the board by Carl Kasierski on behalf of M.J. Casa. The 47-lot subdivision would be split in half by Armsby Road, with one section bordered by Boston Road. The lots would cater to the golfing set with some lots in the 34 acre development as large as 160,000 square feet. According to Kasierski, the style of the houses has not been finalized and the price of the new units has not yet been discussed.

- A number of developments were resubmitted to the board by David Lavalle. These plans are nowhere near implementation with a resubmission being done to extend the zoning protection for the plans, should the revised zoning changes be approved at the May town meeting.

The developments resubmitted were: Pleasant Dale, 13 lots on Old Stone School Road; Southbridge Acres, 22 lots on McClellan Road; Colonial Acres, 111 lots off McClellan Road; Orchard Estates, 95 lots on Leland Hill Road; Deer Run, 104 lots on Dodge Hill Road; Eastview, 64 lots on Boston Road and Singletary Ave.

- An update of a performance guarantee was held with Jack Virgilio, regarding the road for his industrial park located on Rte. 146. According to his agreement with the town, a passbook account was set up which would provide security to the town in case the work was not finished. Virgilio wanted to know if an irrevocable letter of credit from the bank would be sufficient in lieu of the passbook account. The board advised Virgilio to check with town treasurer Dave Perry and stated that, if it is acceptable to Mr. Perry, it is acceptable to them.

Tivnan Seeks Re-Election to Commission

Country Commissioner Paul X. Tivnan, of 15 Highland Street, Paxton, has announced his candidacy for re-election to a seventh four-year term.

Tivnan, a Democrat, was first elected a commissioner in 1964. He is supervisor of recreation for the City of Worcester.

Born in the Vernon Hill section of Worcester, he was elected a Worcester City Councilor from Ward 6 in 1941. He served four years in the Army, beginning in 1942. Tivnan had been a postal worker for 11 years.

He is District IV administrator for Little League baseball in an area comprising Worcester and six suburban towns. Tivnan is a graduate of St. John's High School, Cushing Academy, Becker Junior College, Worcester Junior College and Boston University.

He was chairman of Worcester's U.S. bicentennial parade in 1976 and the city's 250th parade in 1972. He has been co-master of ceremonies for the Worcester St. Patrick's Day parades of recent years.

In his announcement for re-election, Tivnan stated, "The county's two Registries of Deeds will take in over $6,000,000 in this fiscal year from revenue stamp fees. That money goes to the Commonwealth. Yet Suffolk County is allowed to retain the revenue stamp money. Suffolk has the same population as Worcester County. We built a new prison facility in 1971 for $8,500,000. The West Boylston complex is now valued at $65,000,000. We have no bonded indebtedness for prisons. The state is proceeding to spend $140,000,000 for a new prison facility for Suffolk County, including adjoining highway and neighborhood improvements. Whereas Worcester County during my tenure in office has built new court houses in Clinton, Dudley, Fitchburg, Gardner, Milford, Uxbridge and Westboro, the court buildings in Suffolk County have gone to pot with poor maintenance and no new construction for decades. It could be that the state will spend in the next five years or so, the sum of $125,000,000 for court buildings in Suffolk County. We have under consideration a new additional court house building for Worcester estimated to cost $20,000,000 for which we expect the Commonwealth to pay. Our indebtedness for court houses is less than $1,000,000.

"This 'Tale of Two Counties' blatantly shows that the Commonwealth is short-changing the taxpayers of Worcester County. We are being penalized for being far-sighted, frugal and responsible. If Worcester County could retain the revenue stamp fees, there would be a drastic reduction in the County Tax. The City of Worcester, for example, would save $1,350,000."

Tivnan is married to the former Agnes T. McNamara of Millville. They have five children and seven grandchildren.

Sharry Announces Candidacy for Re-election

John H. Sharry, Chairman of the Worcester County Commissioners has announced his candidacy for re-election. Sharry was elected a commissioner in 1984 in his first campaign for public office.

Sharry, 44, of 17 Granville Ave., Worcester, has served as Commission Chairman since January 1987. He is Vice President of Insurance Cost Control, Inc. 44 Front St., Worcester.

In his reelection announcement, Sharry stated, "County Government is an ancient and honorable government in need of new direction. I proposed that a Charter Review question be placed on the November 1986 ballot, and the citizens of Worcester County responded by voting overwhelmingly to establish a Charter Commission to review the role of county government. That review is now completed and a new charter will be before the voters this November. I strongly believe that the cities and towns still want a mid level government to provide services not affordable under Proposition 2 1/2 yet more efficient and accessible than the state can provide. In any event, the future direction of county government will be in the only place it truly belongs - in the hands of the voters of Worcester County."

Sharry is Vice President of Bancroft Human Services, a board member of the Central Mass Chapter of the National Safety Council, Co-chairman of the 1988 Shamrock Games and Chairman of the Worcester Ward 2 Democratic City Committee.

A lifelong Worcester resident, he is a graduate of South High School, Worcester Academy, Leicester Junior College and Clark University.

He is married to Marilyn Anderson Sharry, formerly of Spencer. They have two children, Andrew and Kate.

Sutton Square Pharmacy

Sutton Square Pharmacy, located at Sutton Square Plaza on Rte. 146, is a pleasant blend of the old and the new. Jay Dugan, the third generation pharmacist, prides himself in having a modern, up-to-date pharmacy featuring all of the most current remedies, but a modern pharmacy that is run on the old values of personal service and attention to every customer - old fashion values that he learned working with his father and grandfather.

"In 1905," he said, "my grandfather opened the first drug store in Webster, and my father continued the tradition after him." Today, Jay still operates the Webster pharmacy at its original location. It is in this store that Jay Dugan served his apprenticeship.

"I worked in the store from the time I was old enough to look over the counter," he explained. Jay did all of the jobs that go along with running a drug store in those days, from stocking shelves to operating the old soda fountains that today kindle the nostalgia of the "good old days."

While working for his grandfather and father, Jay learned more than simply how to stock shelves and how to make an ice cream soda; he learned to serve the customers with respect and courtesy. "I still feel that there is a need and will always be a need for a pharmacy that provides personalized attention. That is one lesson that both my father and grandfather taught me, and it's never left me."

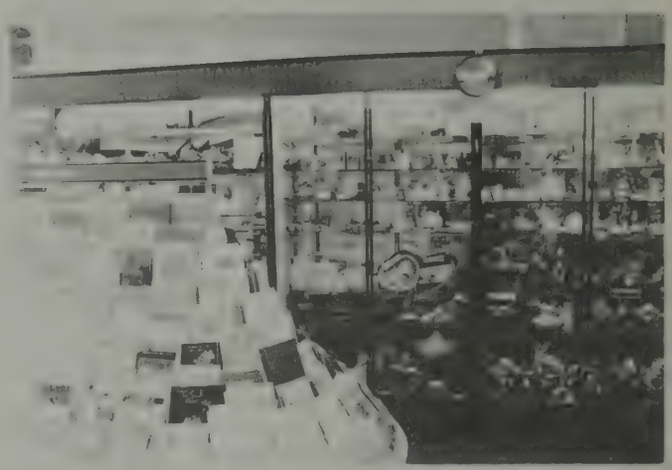
Jay's softspoken manner and unhurried courtesy is reassuring to his customers, most of whom he knows by their first name. Jay moves about the prescription area where shelves are neatly stacked with prescription medication with ease and efficiency, focusing his attention on what he is doing, checking his profile records to see if the medication prescribed will react with another prescription. "It's important that the pharmacist knows his clients. Some clients may go to five different doctors each of whom prescribes something different. If I have a question, I call the doctor to check. Every now and then the doctor will prescribe something else." Jay's personal attention and his determination to foster traditional values keeps his clients coming back.

As much as we would like to retain those rosy images of the past, the pharmacy of the 1980's is very different from the pharmacy of the early 1900's. Jay explained, "I subscribe to six or seven weekly journals that keep us (pharmacists) current with the new medications that have been approved and their side effects. Every year, we have to earn 15 hours in continuing education credits that also deal with advancements or changes in treatment. Just recently, Jayne LePage (a pharmacist who works along with Jay) attended a seminar that was devoted to diabetes."

With advancements in medicine, today's pharmacist can offer his clients not only sound pharmaceutical advice but also the choice of generic drugs. "I think generics are terrific," he said. "There's really no difference for the pharmacist, and our clients can save some money."

Apart from prescription medications, the modern pharmacist must also carry a variety of products that reflect medical advancements in the treatment of many diseases. As he approached shelves containing hospital and ostomy supplies, Jay explained, "Today, doctors perform surgery that not too many years ago was unheard of, and hospitals aren't keeping patients in long enough, so we have to keep a supply of hospital equipment to provide for these clients and our elderly clients who are at home." The variety of supplies which Jay carries as well as the accessibility of his pharmacy have contributed to his success.

The Sutton Square Pharmacy also carries a complete line of gift items, including Hebert and Russell Stover candies and Hallmark cards, for the convenience of area shoppers. Upon entering the store, one is immediately struck with the fragrance of pot pourri which gives the store the ambience of days gone by. To the right are glass cases filled with David Winter Cottages, carousels, and hundreds of other gift items that offer a wide selection for a variety of tastes. "I work 75 hours a week," Jay said, "and I know that there are a lot of families where both the husband and the wife work. It's often difficult to find time to shop for something nice or different, so I decided to offer some tasteful but not outrageously priced gifts that would be convenient to our customers. Since we introduced them, people have remarked how handy it was to be able to find such items without having to waste hours fighting Worcester traffic."



Though Jay is proud of the variety of services and stock which he carries, what he is most proud of are his fellow employees, Jayne LePage and store manager Donna Houle, who offer his clients the personalized attention which he demands. Jayne, like Jay, is a Massachusetts College of Pharmacy graduate and shares with Jay the same easy, congenial manner. Donna Houle has come with Jay from his Webster store and takes care of all the ordering and non-prescription sales. On any given day, she will meet you with a broad smile and a pleasant word.

It is of little surprise that the Sutton Square Pharmacy has enjoyed tremendous success in the short 2 1/2 years that it has been located at the Plaza. The marriage of the old and the new values has proven to be a winning prescription.

MISSING! MISSING! MISSING!

I am sorry to say we are missing 2 (two) full bags of equipment issued to the Farm League last year. If anyone has any of this equipment or information regarding the equipment, please contact me at 865-6024. I will gladly pick it up.

Strawberry Committee Seeks Craftspeople

The Strawberry Festival Committee of the Mendon-Uxbridge Unitarian Church is actively seeking area artists, craftspeople, antique dealers, and community organizations to set up booths and displays at their tenth annual outdoor festival. This event will be held on Saturday, June 11, from 10-4, with a rain date of June 12. Interested parties can contact Marge Congdon in Mendon at 473-4459.

A country auction held on the front lawn of the Mendon church will be the highlight of the day, along with a cafe serving homemade strawberry shortcake, salads, grilled foods, non-alcoholic strawberry daiquiri's, and baked goods. A special area will be set up for children to play games and to buy toys which church members have donated. Mendon Girl Scouts will have a booth selling their famous Lime Rickeys.

The Strawberry Festival always offers a pleasant day in the country to families and friends who would like to welcome summertime and the strawberry harvest.

Anniversary Update...

MILLBURY - June 11th is Millbury's birthday. Celebrations for the 175th anniversary will begin on that day with a block party at Millbury Center from 4-9 p.m. A variety of musical entertainment will be featured at different locations throughout the town. Refreshments will also be available.

As part of the 175th festivities, the Friends of the Millbury Public Library will sponsor a special art exhibit at the library. "Drawing by Design: David Macaulay's Mill" is a display of illustrations from his 1983 book Mill which demonstrates changes that occurred over time in architecture, power production, and the relationship between management and labor. The exhibit will be on view from June 7th through the 25th. A reception will be held on June 12 from 1-3 p.m.

Bronze plated medallions, bearing the official logo of the anniversary, are now available at the Tax Collector's office. The price is $20.00 per medallion. Also, the $3.00 pins are still being sold at the same location. The proceeds from these two items will help to defray the cost of the anniversary celebration.

The ball will be held at the Sheraton-Lincoln Inn, Worcester, from 6 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. on June 24. Dress is semi-formal, suit and tie/tea length dress is acceptable, or period dress (1813). Tickets can be purchased at the Tax Collector's office. The price is $30.00 per person.

Commemorative items will be available from the following organizations: Council on Aging, Asa Waters tiles; Millbury Public Library, 9" balloons; Lioness Club, baseball caps, visors, tote bags; Lions club, T-shirts; Baptist church, coffee mugs; Boy Scout Troop 109, beer steins, painters caps; Democratic Town Committee, 18" aluminum foil balloons; Town of Millbury, bronze plated coins, buttons, bumper stickers; V.F.W., plates. The price of the V.F.W. plates is $19.95. They are available at Ludvigson Jewelers or from Joe Sullivan (865-6364), who is willing to deliver them.

Assumption P.T.G. Meeting

MILLBURY - The Assumption School Parent Teacher Guild will meet on May 12. There will be consultations with the teachers from 7-8 p.m., followed by a business meeting.

Stenciling Class

MILLBURY - The Friends of the Millbury Public Library will sponsor a stenciling class on May 18. The class will be conducted by Meredith Ordway at 6 p.m. at the library. Registration is required. The fee of $8.50 must be paid at that time.

Kids and Computers

MILLBURY - "Kids & Computers '88" is being held at the State House in Boston on May 9th. A few selected children from both the R.E. Shaw Middle School and the Millbury Memorial High School will be demonstrating their computer skills at this open house, sponsored by MASSCUE. Legislators, parents, and students will be able to view the results of computer education in the schools of Massachusetts.

Students from Middle School working with Basic and Logo Writer are: Danielle Beauregard, Todd Sjolander, Matthew Tella, and Stephen Thompson.

Students from Millbury High are: Linnea Bengtson, demonstration of Smooth Talker disk and word processing on Appleworks; Jennifer Marshall, a detailed report on the MAC; Philippe Gibeault, 8 column worksheet; Michael Newlands, detailed payroll register using Spreadsheet; John Flamand and Steve Frederico are back-ups and equipment people.

Accompanying the students will be teachers Barbara McCurdy and Donna Saucier.
